

· SENIOR SCHOOL NEWS ·

Matric results will be announced at midnight on 29 December (00h00 on Friday 30 December).

This year, as part of our commitment to celebrating all our matriculants, we plan to use our social media platforms (St Mary's website, St Mary's app, Facebook, Twitter and Instagram) to profile each of our girls leading up to the 29 December announcement, as well as, thereafter, reporting on the outstanding results we confidently expect from the class of 2016.

See our 2016 head girl and deputy head girls on our social media platforms today.

From the head's desk

On 23 November, Ros Howell and I hosted a meeting for parents to discuss matters of discipline, how and where the girls socialise, and the partnership between school and parents on these matters. I want to thank the class representatives for encouraging so many parents to attend. Ros and I were pleased with the open and informal conversation, and with the willingness of all those present to participate in the discussion and to share their experiences. The resounding outcome of the discussion was that parents need to interact with one another about their children's plans and confirm arrangements together with other parents. Families should try to provide more opportunities for children to socialise at their homes.

Our children are exposed to many dangers when they socialise in public places and it is our responsibility, the school together with parents, to educate them about these dangers and to protect them from making mistakes that could have a lasting impact. The school's approach to discipline is one of corrective intervention instead of punishment. Matters are kept confidential and assessed on an individual basis, but there are always consequences. The school holds girls who are leaders or aspiring leaders to account for behaviour outside school because of their influence as role models.

The class representatives have distributed more detailed feedback through the house networks. Ros and I will also host similar meetings next year. The question to guide thinking is, do you know where your daughter is and are you comfortable with her arrangements?

This busy year is almost over. The girls have completed their examinations and are preparing themselves for the end-of-year events. They are encouraged to relax and enjoy the December break, to reflect on their year and to return ready for all that 2017 has to offer.

I wish all our families a restful and peaceful holiday. If you are travelling, go well and safely. May you enjoy a Christmas that is filled with God's blessings.

Many of you will have noticed the large RMB advertising banner that is displayed against the gym wall facing SMOGS cottage. Some questions have been asked and I should like to provide some information about it.

St Mary's, together with other rowing schools, RowSA, and with RMB as the financial sponsor, have started a project to develop rowing in schools that have not previously enjoyed the benefits of this sport, but where interest and potential have been shown.

At the same time, part of the sponsorship will be used in St Mary's to develop the sport within the school. Rowing is and has been a major sport at St Mary's, and there is growing interest in it. I am firmly of the view that the project should be supported, both for the benefit it will have for rowing at St Mary's and in the wider schools community.

The message, "Thinking. Pulling. Together. For our future," seems most appropriate for a South African school with a long and successful rowing tradition.

The school is committed to keeping commercial advertising opportunities limited to what we regard as worthwhile projects, and to limiting the areas in which we shall permit advertising, namely, the AstroTurf area, the swimming pool and the SMOGS cottage area. This particular RMB advertisement replaces the one previously at the swimming pool.

On Advent Sunday, Sunday 27 November, we welcomed in a new church year. Advent marks the four-week period leading up to Christmas Day, and is a season in which we prepare our hearts, our families, our lives and our communities to receive the Christ-child anew this Christmas.

Preparing for Christmas is usually an exciting time, marked by fun and anticipation of what is to come. On both a national and global level, the events of 2016 have left many feeling saddened, fearful, hurt and filled with a sense of dread as to what the future holds.

How do we marry these two realities: the excitement of preparing for Christmas, and the overall negative emotions as a result of 2016? Is it not when we most deeply feel fear, hurt, trepidation - that we best know how much we need God's gift to us in Christ: "Faith, hope and love [...]; and the greatest of these is love" (1 Corinthians 13:13)?

Christmas holds a renewed promise that God shows us another way by inviting us all into relationships with God, and that invitation comes in the form of a vulnerable infant. It is a time to remember all we hold dear, and that God holds all dearly beloved. This Advent, then, as we prepare to invite the Christ-child into our lives anew, let us each ask the question, "Lord, show me how I can let you love, through me."

God bless you, this Advent and Christmas-tide.

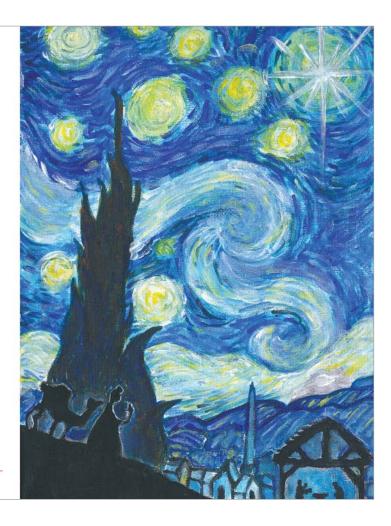

Revd Claudia Coustas

May joy be your gift at Christmas and may faith, hope and love be your treasures in the New Year

With our wishes
